

Hudson Fiber Network Partners with Atlantic, Tomorrow's Office to Enhance Data Communication Services

Paramus, NJ – Hudson Fiber Network (HFN), a premier data transport provider offering high-bandwidth, low-latency fiber networking solutions for financial, content, carrier and enterprise customers announced a synergistic partnership with Atlantic, Tomorrow's Office, one of North America's largest provider of Office Technologies and Managed Services that help organizations increase productivity, control technology related expenses and secure their data with back up and disaster recovery solutions. Atlantic's 22,000 plus customers can benefit from:

- Improved Internet application performance, reliability and scalability
- On-demand bandwidth
- Fiber diversity to minimize risk of network disruption

Not your typical partnership, both parties saw value in each other's services and leveraged them internally.

Using the HFN network backbone, Atlantic has upgraded bandwidth and reduced costs between 7 offices to support backup, storage and datacenter services for their organization. Once complete, Atlantic will be able to respond to changing needs with HFN's SDN ready network to quickly configure, manage, secure and optimize network resources remotely from their NOC.

"We quickly saw the benefits of using HFN's network at Atlantic and will refer our clients to HFN who have similar needs." stated Atlantic's Chief Technology Officer, Bill McLaughlin. "The ability to shape resources to changing needs will give us a tremendous management tool to maximize network utility without increasing our budgets."

HFN outsourced all IT and related support to Atlantic. Atlantic optimized HFN's server assets and related services and leveraged cloud solutions to improve operational processes and security. Atlantic's 24/7 IT system monitoring and NOC Helpdesk provides HFN with a single point of contact and responsive incident management.

"We're proud to partner with Atlantic because we know they have the people, the infrastructure and the commitment to providing their customers with progressive technology solutions that drive performance and value in today's data driven environment." stated Keith Muller, Chief Operations Officer of Hudson Fiber Network.

The Atlantic and HFN partnership demonstrates a joint commitment to delivering the latest fiber solutions in the market and unsurpassed office technology solutions and Managed IT support to their respective clients.
